Helgersen Seeks Permit For 4-Unit Apartment

At the meeting of the Mokena village board Tuesday, Feb. 5, George A. Helgersen, a local contractor, requested the rezoning of a lot located on the west side of Wolf Rd. for the construction of a four unit apartment building. The building, a split foyer, will be constructed with the lower level partially below ground level and the upper level a few feet above ground level. He recently completed the construction of the Mokena Garden apartments located at 194th and Wolf rd.

Mr. Helgersen made some remarks regarding the effect such apartments would have on the community as a whole.

It has been noted that land values in the area of the presently completed apartments have shown a considerable increase in the last year, he said. Also, because many people are of the opinion that two bedroom dwellings will tax the present school systems, he pointed out that of the twelve units in the present apartment building, only one additional child has registered in a local school.

In summarizing, Mr. Helgersen pointed out that with the new highway coming thru the area, Wolf rd., in all probability, will carry a much greater flow of traffic, making the area undesirable for homesites and that the possibility of small businesses building up as improbable because of the increasing prominence and convenience of shopping centers.

Plans for the apartments include gas hot water heat, automatic garbage disposals, built-in appliances and rental comparable to the rent of his other apartments.

The matter will be taken up by the planning commission and the zoning board, before he is given any answer on his petition.

Applications have been accepted by the board to fill the position of chief of police since the resignation of Vern Bormet. It has been decided that all applicants for the position be put on a two week probationary term as a policeman, assuming the duties of office by making the rounds periodically, day and night. The first of the men to be tried out is Bert Gibson, who is presently employed as a maintenance man for the village. The names of the other applicants have not been released by the committee in charge.

The board has also made a decision to act on the matter of the stray dogs allowed to run at will in town. These dogs will be picked up in the future, and placed in kennels until the owners claim them. The owners of such dogs will have to pay all the fees for the boarding of the dogs. Suggestions for the mass inoculation of dogs was brought before the board and has been approved if it is possible to avail the services of a veterinarian for a whole day. This plan was used once before and was proved very successful in this area.

All dogs owners are also reminded that the deadline for getting dog tags is April 1.

Two Candidates File For Places On Mokena Board

Quiet is apparently the watchword in all elections to be held in Mokena this spring.

Two candidates filed this week for trustees of the village board, the first to announce. There are three places to be filled.

Fred Steinhagen, a former village employee who has served in various capacities including policeman, sewage disposal plant operator, and general repairs and maintenance, is one of those who filed.

Rudolph C. Engelhardt, of 276 Carpenter st., is the other. He is a native of Bremen township and lived all his life in the area. He is a millwright and welder and employed as such by the Albert Schwill Malt Co., Chicago.

Ray Bisgrove, a Mokena contractor, has taken out petitions but had not filed as of Tuesday of this week.

A new candidate has appeared in the park district election, William Sheridan, 22, of 19838 center st., Mokena, a student in Joliet junior college, has filed a petition of candidacy.

Two places are to be filled this year and the members whose terms expire are both seeking re-election, Charles Swanberg, and Edwin Yunker.

In the township election Walter Yunker, Mokena, highway commissioner, who is seeking re-election is the only candidate announced.

No one has taken out petitions yet for the grade school board. Robert Genther and Chester Ebert are not seeking re-election, it was stated.

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Carl E. Hart

Funeral services for Carl E. Hart, 54, of 167th Street in Homer twp., were conducted from the Baskerville chapel in New Lenox last Monday, with Rev. LaVerne A. Smith officiating. His death on Feb. 7 was attributed to an apparent heart attack.

Mr. Hart was employed by Caterpillar Tractor in Joliet as a crane operator.

He was proceeded in death by his first wife, Ida Iona and his son, William D. Hart, when they were fatally injured in a train accident in 1958.

Surviving him are his wife Gladys, nee Schmulh; two daughters, Luella Frances and Bernadine (Mrs. Albert Bettenhausen) of New Lenox; two sons, Carl E. of New Lenox and Charles F. of Joliet; three stepsons, Thomas, Gary and Wayne Stoner.

Also surviving is his mother, Mrs. May Hart of Seymour, Ia.; a brother, Claude of Wilton Junction, Ia., and eight grandchildren.

Mr. Hart was born in Coal City, Ia., and came to the area in 1951 when he took up residence in Frankfort and later moved to Lincolnwood.

Interment was in Skyline Memorial Park, Monee.

New Lenox Board May Hire Business Manager

The New Lenox village board is giving consideration to the idea of employing a business manager who would handle all the administrative work of that government.

He would serve as purchasing agent, prepare payrolls, handle complaints, make up and maintain an ordinance file and index check the tax rolls to make certain all taxable property is recorded, issue sewer connection permits, deal with delinquent sewer users accounts, assist the Association of Commerce and other civic and service organizations promotion of programs of benefit to the community, and in general do a public relations job for the village.

The salary proposed would be approximately $2,500 a year, to be paid by trimming here and there on various budget items.

All this was outlined at the meeting of the village board on Wednesday night of last week by Mayor Stanley Gilmore.

It is reported that there is a resident of New Lenox, now retired, who is willing to take the job suggested, but the trustees believed the subject needed further study and discussion before any action was taken.

When the board adjourned last week it was with the understanding that it would meet again the night of Feb. 20 for further discussion of the program.

Advocates of the plan believe it would save the village money and give the public better service.

Village Attorney William Penn told the board that beginning next January, according to Illinois Attorney General William G. Clark, the salary of police magistrates, now paid by municipalities would be paid by the state. New Lenox pays its magistrate $150 a month and provides quarters and supplies. The law requires that quarters and supplies be furnished. The salary is set by the village board.

Trustee Don Anderson suggested a vehicle tax as a means for additional revenue. There are approximately 1,000 or more vehicles in the village, he said, and at $3 or $3.50 a year the municipality would take in $3,000 or $3,500 he pointed out. There was no discussion of the proposal.

Trustee Eugene Hunt said he was opposed to cutting salaries at this time as a means of raising the money to pay the proposed business manager. He added, however, that as for the suggestion to cut the pay of mayor and trustees he was willing to go further than that and said he was ready to make a motion to have the trustees and mayor forego all pay.

Trustee Evans Drotts suggested that if the proposed business manager would take over some of the tasks now performed by the village clerk some of the village clerk's pay should go to meet the manager's salary. Last year the board voted to set the village clerk's salary at $800 beginning this term. Whether this could be changed again now, observers say, depends upon how one interprets the law dealing with making salary changes in an election year.

Such subjects may be brought up again at the meeting Feb. 20, it was indicated.

The village attorney was instructed by the board to write the Leo Porzak-Glover Agency, Inc., developers of the Padzuikas subdivision east of New Lenox off U.S. 30 (generally located as "out-by-the-round-barn") and bill them for plowing the snow out of the streets there.

This subdivision was annexed by the village of New Lenox about a year ago and the bonds on file to assure the township that the roads in the development would be completed according to county standards were withdrawn. Town officials say they were informed then that the village had annexed the tract and the town was not longer responsible for it. Some months ago, however, the village board rescinded the ordinance annexing the area but town officials say they were not informed of this until recently, about the time the snow problem was dealt with.

Trustee Hunt said he told the people who wanted the streets plowed that if Victor Avon, who was operating the plow, found time and was willing to do it, he could plow the streets, but the action was not to be construed as a village act because the subdivision was no longer a part of the village. Hunt told the board that he acted as he did so that in the event some resident of the subdivision (they call it New Lenox Heights) became ill or some house caught on fire help could reach the scene.

The township is wary of doing any work on the streets, until the bonds covering completion of the roads are renewed because it might be construed that in working on the streets they had accepted them. The streets must still be blacktopped. Attorney Penn has turned over copies of a letter to town officials that he received from the Porzak-Glover agency to the effect they will complete the necessary steps to assure the township of their intention. Supervisor John E. Francis said such an assurance was easy to give by filing bonds.

Trustee Chester Bowman spoke again of what he terms as a necessity if New Lenox is to gain control over its development as the area expands. Bowman has brought this question of adopting a land use plan, pointing out that the explosive growth the area may expect can be the ruination of communities unless they are prepared to give such growth guidance. The subject was scheduled for further discussion later.

Mrs. Betty Buckler, of the PTA, appeared before the council last week to receive assurance that the pay for a school crossing guard would be included in the budget for the coming fiscal year. She also asked and was promised the cooperation of village officials in the bicycle safety tests to be given at Oakview school in the spring.

Direct Dialing Will Become Effective In Area Sunday

Thousands of new relays and switches will be clicking many Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox long distance calls around the country Sunday. The new equipment will spring into action as telephone users in the three communities begin dialing their own station-to-station calls.

More than 40,000 communities and 80 million telephones in the United States and Canada will be at the fingertip of each customer receiving the new service. Zero hour to "cut in" the new service is 1:00 a.m.

At the same time the figures "48" will replace the letters "HU" in all New Lenox numbers, the prefix "469" will be added to all Frankfort numbers, and the prefix "479" will be added to all Mokena numbers. Phone users will then dial all seven figures of the number to complete local calls.

All the new seven-figure numbers for several nearby communities, plus complete dialing instructions, will be included in the new telephone directory, which also becomes effective Sunday.

The keys to direct distance dialing (DDD) are the figure "1" and area codes, three figure numbers which tell the telephone switching equipment into what geographic area of the country to send each call.

The new directory, for example, shows 913 as the area code for Kansas City, 404 for Atlanta and 617 for Boston. After dialing the figure "1" to reach the DDD equipment, to dial Kansas City, you would then dial 913 and the seven-digit number. Atlanta, Boston and the other 40,000 communities can be dialed by using the proper area code and the seven-digit number.

The area code for Frankfort and New Lenox is 815, and Mokena is being transferred to the 312 area as of Sunday. DDD calls to communities located in the 815 area, can be made from Frankfort and New Lenox merely by dialing "1", then the seven-digit phone number. DDD calls to 312 area communities from Mokena phones are made by dialing just "1" followed by the seven-digit number. In short, it is not necessary to use the Area Code when the community being dialed is in the same area from which you're phoning.

Calls to communities in your "toll-free" calling area are not DDD calls, however, and require special dialing. Instructions for dialing toll-free calls from Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox appear on the introductory pages of the new telephone directories. These pages also list many communities throughout the country which can be dialed direct along with their Area Codes.

Direct distance dialing applies only to station-to-station calls. Calls requiring special handling, such as person-to-person, credit card and collect calls, must still be placed with the operator.

Miss Verna Piepenbrink, 47, died on Feb. 6 in the home of her sister, Mrs. Anna Woodman of Frankfort, following a lingering illness.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Piepenbrink; two sisters, Elvina Schewe and Anna Marsh and two brothers, Elmer and Herman.

She is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Lydia Hattendorf of Crete; Mrs. Louise Noger of Matteson; Mrs. Helen Peters of Steger and Mrs. Mary Woodman of Frankfort; three brothers, August of Cedar Lake, Ind., Harry of Matteson, and Fred of Frankfort.

Miss Piepenbrink was a lifelong resident of the area and was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church at Sieden Prairie.

Funeral services were held from the Spindler Koelling chapel in Chicago Heights on Feb. 9, with Rev. John Peterson of St. Paul's church officiating.

Interment was at Skyline Memorial Park cemetery at Monee.

Verne Crackel, Will county superintendent of schools addressed the New Lenox school board at its regular February meeting last week.

Supt. Crackel discussed with the board the problems and procedures arising from recent school district annexations and pending requests for annexations. Existing laws and legal opinions regarding proper and legal procedures in setting up patterns affecting the completion of annexation procedures were discussed.

An outline of the taxes levied for school purposes by grade school districts of Will county was presented to the board by Supt. Crackel and a discussion followed.

Also presented to the group was an outline of new laws effecting the certification of teachers of Illinois. Effective July 1, 1963, the minimum requirements for certification are three years of college training beyond high school, and effective July 1, 1964 the minimum

Back Broken, Man Crawls Thru Snow To Get Help

William Fetzner, 52, of 1111 N. Cedar rd., New Lenox, is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, with a broken back as a result of an automobile accident early Sunday morning.

An engineer for the Wisconsin Steel Co., Mr. Fetzner was on his way to work at Chicago. He had left home at 5 o'clock and 20 minutes later his car struck an ice patch on 191st street, just as he went into the curve south of the Tinley Park bowling lanes. The car skidded and rolled over twice.

According to information obtained by State Trooper James Brockman, Fetzner finally succeeded in freeing himself from the wreckage. He then crawled about two blocks over ice and snow to reach a farm house and get assistance.

There was also damage to muscles and ligaments and while some x-rays have been taken it will be several days before further examination can be made. He is suffering considerable pain.

Another New Lenox resident, James Armstrong, 30, of 715 Pine st., suffered apparently minor injuries last Thursday when the car in which he was riding struck a Wabash passenger train on the Baileu road crossing south of Wilmington. Armstrong complained of pains in the neck and left shoulder but was not hospitalized.

The driver of the car, Arthur Lake, 23, of 1603 New Lenox road, was admitted to Silver Cross hospital but later released. His wife, Judith Lake, 23, was still in the hospital Monday night. She suffered head injuries. Lake told state police he did not see or hear the train, which was northbound. He hit the first coach.

Summit Hill School Dist. Will Elect 3 To Board

There will be three positions open to contest when the Summit Hill District 161 Board of Education election is held on April 13th. Two of the positions will be for full three year terms and the other position will be an unexpired one year term.

The seven-man board was elected within the district for the first time last spring. It was necessary at that time to draw lots to assign the length of time each newly elected member would serve. Marvin Rognlie and Clarence Lauffer drew the one-year terms, Mr.

Rognlie has served as board President. It will now be necessary to elect two members to serve full three year terms.

The short one year term is the result of the resignation of Samuel LaRocca this past year. The board appointed John Hayden to serve until the regular election this spring and now someone will be elected for the remaining one year of that term.

At the present time there is no definite information as to the intentions of the incumbents. The petitions are available at the Arbary Hills school where they may be obtained from Supt. H. James Wrath. Petitions must be filed between Feb. 27 and March 23.

Woman Dies In Crash South Of Frankfort

The victim was Mrs. Geneva Williams, 42, of 1311 S. State st., Lockport.

Driver of the car was John Nolen, 44, of 104 Stevens st., Joliet. He was injured.

According to the report of state troopers Nolen lost control of the car and it went off the highway, skidding sideways until it struck the abutment. He was driving north on U.S. 45.

The body of Mrs. Williams was taken to Shawneetown for burial.

Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale Will Begin Saturday

The "outing" in Scouting is becoming increasingly popular with Girl Scouts in the South Cook County Girl Scout Council as is shown by the attendance at the various camps provided by the Council.

Proceeds from an annual cookie sale make the extensive outdoor program offered by the Council possible. This year Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts will begin taking orders for cookies between Feb. 16 and 24. Packages sell for 40 cents, no tax. Five varieties of cookies are offered. The council goal is 200,000 packages.

"A troop meeting its goal of 852 boxes will realize a $25.56 profit and receive a Merit Certificate from the Council," Mrs. Richard Yang, 10021 W. 146th St., Orland Park, Neighborhood cookie chairman, told her troop cookie chairman, Mrs. Richard Knoll, Troop 311 and Mrs. Leslie Auld, Troop 67.

If the 1963 cookie sale is a success, the council will be able to provide Day camping in seven forest preserves, maintain facilities at Camp Thorn Creek at Thornton, Ill., the Council's troop camp; and at Camp Manitowish, the Council's established camp in northern Michigan. The council will be able to expand the camping program by furnishing additional facilities-- tents, canoes, and major equipment for more advanced camping; offer camperships for girls who cannot finance their own way; pay taxes and insurance on all camp property and equipment of the Council; and add to the reserve fund for the future purchase of another camp site, it was stated.

The annual cookie sale is the only area-wide project in which the Girl Scouts themselves have an opportunity to contribute to the support of their own program.

Cookies may be ordered from any Girl Scout, any Girl Scout adult, or by calling Mrs. Yang, FI 9-3547. They will be delivered March 22.

Yunker Orders A Carload Of New Combines

A million dollar trainload of selfpropelled Gleaner combines was shipped Feb. 12 from the Allis-Chalmers Independence (Mo.) plant. The 44-car shipment will be directed to farm equipment dealers in northern Illinois served by the Company's Rockford branch. One car load is coming to the Yunker Implement Co., 159th and Wolf rd., Orland township.

Movement of these combines is timed to help dealers build inventories in preparation for the 1963 harvest of corn, soybeans, small grain and seed crops.

The Gleaner with its attachments does the work which previously required several pieces of equipment. It can replace the corn picker and corn sheller for example and will harvest most crops raised on farms today, it was stated.

Sunday's the day when all three towns will receive seven-figure dialing. This means, beginning February 17, Mokena and Frankfort customers will dial seven figures instead of four for local calls, and New Lenox customers will dial seven figures instead of five.

ALSO ON SUNDAY -

There will be a change in dialing calls FROM MOKENA to Frankfort, New Lenox, Orland Park and Tinley Park.

There will be a change in dialing calls FROM FRANKFORT AND NEW LENOX to Mokena. Telephone numbers in some nearby communities will be entirely new.

We suggest you check your new directory before making a call, beginning next Sunday.

The nation's expanding needs for new phone services such as Direct Distance Dialing (DDD) - which also arrives Sunday - call for many new telephone prefixes (your prefix is the first three digits of your seven-figure telephone number). Only the new-style, seven-figure system provides enough prefixes to best serve everyone.

Snow Removal: A Knotty Problem

If the United States can get a commission together that is successful in getting the Russian missiles, weapons, planes and troops out of Cuba we would suggest that it not be disbanded but be held together to deal with a problem that confronts every municipality—snow removal.

Getting the Russians and their weapons out of Cuba is a difficult task . . . so is snow removal. We figure that any group capable of solving the Cuba problem should be able to find a way to bring about snow removal. Perhaps we are looking at this from the wrong end. Maybe it is the other way round. Maybe if we can find a group that can come up with a sure fire plan to bring about snow removal it should be able to find a way to remedy the Cuba situation short of sinking the island in the sea.

The plowing itself is not difficult. It is the finding of room for snowplows to operate and what to do with snow afterwards that makes winter a miserable time of year for municipal officials and workers.

Many communities have ordinances that require car owners to move their vehicles off the streets when it begins to snow. That isn't quite reasonable either, because it might only be a flurry or what the meteorologists term a "trace." Some communities have laws which state that when there are two inches of snow on the ground and it begins to snow some more then car owners must move their cars off the streets so the snow plows can work unhindered. Some communities add a further restriction so snow removal is limited to the early morning hours so that from midnight on until 8 a.m. on-street parking is prohibited.

Some may think that the banning of parking is beyond a municipality's powers but it isn't. Streets and highways are to travel on and a state, county, city or village is well within its powers to restrict parking to certain areas or to ban it altogether if such a move would be for the best interests of the public.

The time is not too far off when on-street parking will be banned, especially in business sections for the simple reason that the streets are not large enough to provide parking space and also carry the ever increasing flow of traffic.

Certainly one can see that city authorities are confronted with a tough problem when they attempt to operate snowplows in thoroughfares cluttered up with parked vehicles, and a large share of them poorly parked at that. . . . too far away from the curb or at an angle so a part of the car protrudes on the traffic side.

And the complaints! People want the snow taken off the streets but they don't want to move their cars so the plows have a clean sweep; they want other people to clear snow from sidewalks but they balk at doing it themselves; they would like to have the municipality clean the sidewalks but don't want to pay for it; they want the snow off the street but they don't want it piled at the curb line or on the sidewalks. Nor do they want snow thrown in front of their driveways, or so piled as to seal off their cars.

The only thing a municipality can do if they want to get the job done right is to have cars towed off to a garage or a pound at the expense of the owners and then plow the streets from curb to curb.

It could be done but it would cause a hubbub that would echo and re-echo thru the years.

One may say, "Surely there must be an easier way."

Well, maybe the bureaucrats can find one or maybe congress and the different state legislatures can appoint commissions to study a painless and inexpensive method of snow removal. It may take 30 or 40 years and cost some $60-or-70-million but in the end they may find an answer.

The individual—if sufficiently endowed with worldly goods—can solve this snow removal for himself by going south. . . a long, long way south it proved to be this winter.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

A couple of weeks ago -- right smack in the middle of a lot of snow and subzero temperature readings -- a distinguished member of the medical profession came out with some excellent and timely advice. His remarks appeared in the daily press and on newscasts via video and radio and widely acclaimed by the vigorous American male.

"Don't shovel snow," the good doctor warned the men, "Let your wife do it."

In the case that the wife is so crippled and bent over with arthritis, or maybe that old fashioned ailment they used to call rheumatism when every other diagnosis failed, that she can't straighten up sufficiently to wield the shovel properly, a husband can: (1) buy her a riding plow, or (2) hire a boy.

In the event the man is unmarried he can: (1) get married and thus automatically acquire a snow handler; (2) hire a boy, or (3) move to a hotel or a snowless climate.

The doctor's point was that in their household tasks women made more use of their muscles than do men holding sit-down jobs and as a result can use them without ill effect on the old ticker. He gives no out for the athlete or the guy doing manual labor. This seems unfair to us because the shovel-single stem, vow that "I'll remember always."

Red carnations mince no words: "I'm carrying the torch for you." Fragrant white carnations breathe, "You're sweet and lovely." Pink carnations promise, again, "I'll never forget you." Newest in the carnation and camellia spectrum are the striped or variegated colors which at St. Valentine's day have a very definite way of saying "Sorry I can't be with you" or "Wish I could be with you." Yellow carnations plead eloquently, "You have disappointed me."

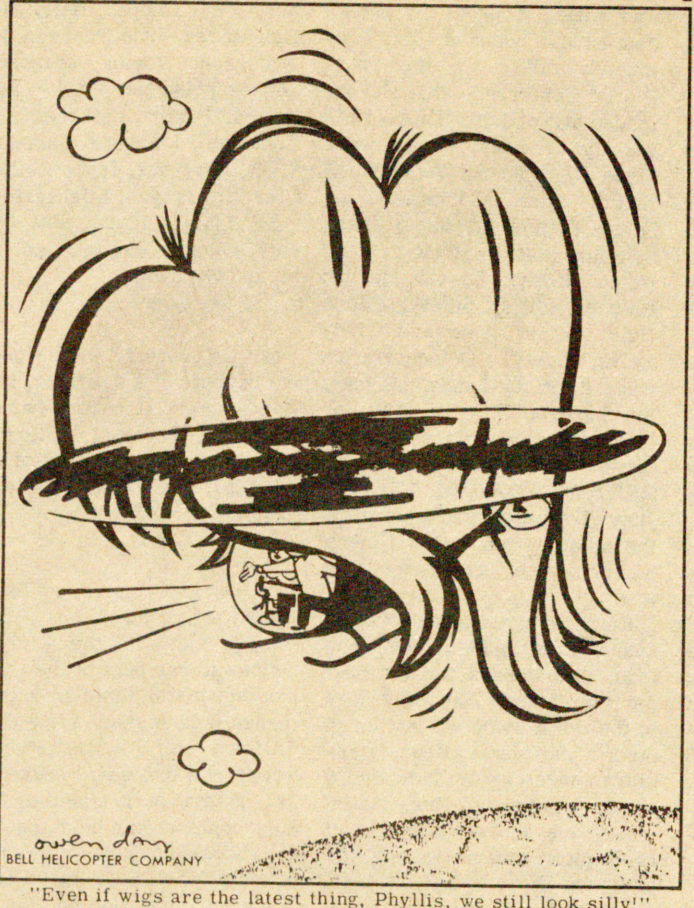

"To a beautiful lady," is exclusively the voice of the orchid, whether expressed by the large lavender kind that belongs to the mature woman or the dainty orchid spray for a young girl. Sophisticated camellias, the red variety, are warm reminders that "You're a flame in my heart." If the camellias are white, "You're adorable," of "Adorable you," Dainty pink camellias plead, "I'm longing for you." The white gardenia, in quiet grace, breathes "You're lovely." Violets tied in an old-fashioned nosegay promise, as you would suspect, to be "always true." The colorful gladioli plead: "Give me a break -- I'm really sincere."

The golden daffodil carries its ancient message: "The sun is always shining when I'm with you," and the modern version, "You're the only one." The blue iris declares, "Your friendship means so much to me." Stately snapdragons bear greetings to "A gracious lady." Tulips unfold their voluble petals to say, "I love you -- believe me." And, daisies, of course -- "I'll never tell."

It is true that snow shoveling is not a problem there. There are no streets, no sidewalks. A light, or tracking snow, is good for hunting. If it snows enough that the roads fill up or drift shut, why no one is going out anyway. There is usually a pile of wood handy to the house and several good axes for m to choose from so it is no great shakes for her to keep the fires going.

Since wood is about the only fuel it is used the year round. With this constant need a woman becomes quite proficient and skilled in chopping. Chop-ing motion might throw an athlete off in his form and may call on muscles not normally used by the working stiff.

That men have rather loosely interpreted the good doctor's words to cover all of their sex was illustrated only recently in one of the towns of the area where according to ordinance householders are required to keep the public walks clear of snow.

A woman was busy scooping up snow when one of the village officers chance by.

"You and your ordinance," she addressed him with some bitterness. "If you look up and down this street," she went on, "you will see people out with snowblowers. I'm the only shoveler left. I can't afford one of those blowers."

"That may be true," counter the official, "but on the other hand if you will look thru the window there of your house you will see three good sized men who are accustomed to hard work. And what are they doing? They are sitting there developing stenographer's spread, watching television. If you blew them out of there and equipped them with shovels you wouldn't need any other blower."

We can see how a bowler, for instance, unless it is a female bowler who also has household chores to do, could foul up his footwork and delivery by shoveling snow and a male golfer could develop numerous faults, including letting his elbows fly and failure to follow thru.

For the record, however, the good doctor who would liberate men from snow shoveling is not a pioneer in this movement. The men in the southern hill country discovered many generations ago that woman is no frail weakling.

It is true that snow shoveling is not a problem there. There are no streets, no sidewalks. A light, or tracking snow, is good for hunting. Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The stock market has gone thru another week of no pressure on those who are sellers and no special urgent buying trend. Most analysts appeared to note that the volume of trading was lessened with falling prices. This was taken as a favorable aspect of market conditions.

Analysts also noted that the major market action is in the so-called blue chip stocks and that the stocks just under this grade or what are known as "intermediate" grade, have shown strength, but of an unspectacular nature. Some of the analysts express belief that these intermediate issues must soon show greater strength to confirm the picture of better business which is predicted. They note that a considerable part of market activity in past weeks, has been the accumulation of better grade securities by the institutional investors that have large sums of uninvested funds which have been accumulating for some time. Such institutions must get their funds to earning and cannot afford the luxury of holding cash or short term paper over a longer period.

Students also express belief that the institutional grade investments by mutual funds, pension funds, profit sharing, endowment funds, etc., make their investments on basis of retention over a longer period. This has the effect of reducing the available supply of such stocks as creation of new stock of this grade is very low whereas creation of funds seeking this type has been fairly rapid in recent years.

Old time rules of trading are now appearing in tomes of recent publication, which set forth ideas and rules to follow for successful trading efforts. Some of the suggestions are helpful, but absorption of many of the suggestions, require some knowledge of the market and close study of the text which is in the nature of an assignment for home work.

One of the old trading rules which we saw in one such volume was; as a general rule, if one stock in an industry group, fails to advance in price when most other stocks in this group are advancing, the trader following this rule, will sell his holdings with belief that events or news will shortly be noted that explains reasons for lag in the market price.

Conversely, if a particular stock in an industry group advances at faster rate than the industry group, they believe it likely that news or events will shortly justify the advances.

Such theories are obviously based on belief that students of particular industries or firms, are aware of developments prior to general industry knowledge.

The railroad shares are attracting more favorable attention and earnings trends in this group, make better reading.

Lucien O. Hooper, a market analyst of a leading stock exchange firm and columnist of Forbes magazine, states, "the list right now does not look ripe for any major correction -- speculative excesses are almost entirely lacking".

As was predicted by a number of economic analysts, there is a trend toward increasing of inventories.

Everyone appreciates flowers. But on Valentine's Day flowers have a special significance -- a language all their own.
Floral Symbolica, a best selling book of 1866 said: "Some flowers almost bear written upon their upturned faces the thoughts of which they are living representatives." Another

19th century writer seemed to be expressing the modern day feeling, when he wrote: "Flowers have an expression of countenance as much as men. Some seem to smile; some have a sad expression; some are pensive and diffident; others again are plain, honest and upright."

To get an up-to-date version of what flowers say, I called the Illinois Allied Florists for their ideas. According to them, today's young admirer (and older too) can say just about anything he means to say by the flowers he chooses to send to his Valentine. The warm greeting of roses, if they're red, comes right to the point with "I Love You." If the roses are white, "You're heavenly," or "You're innocent." Pink roses promise, "I'll never forget you"; yellow roses, "Try to care"; or "I'm jealous." Sweetheart roses, the midget rosebuds clustered on a

The Arbury Hills Civic Association held its February meeting and election at the school on Tuesday, Feb. 5.

A slate of officers was presented by the chairman of the nominating committee, Ed Hovi, for the approval of the membership. Three of the nominees were declared invalid due to the lack of written approval of acceptance by the candidates who were not present to give their verbal approval.

At that time there were nominations from the floor to complete the slate of officers; who were then elected by a unanimous voice vote of the members.

The officers thus elected were: president, Dan Markowski; vice president, Al Cutler; secretary, Phyllis Prather; treasurer, Marie Hovi; board of directors, Tony Surma, Frank Riesbeck, Dick Prather, Jim Lillie, and Francis Cronos. There were also two directors who were carried over from the last year, Al Behnke and Emmet Stapleton. These officers will take over their respective offices at the March meeting.

At the same meeting there were also a number of motions entered into the secretary's minutes pertaining to the amending of the by-laws. These motions were relative to the problem of obtaining a quorum, or establishing the use of proxies to establish the number of members as set by the by-laws as now written. The other major change suggested was the lowering of the number of business meetings to be held during the year.

Carl French, the chairman of the committee to establish a local CD unit for Arbury Hills, asked for additional workers for his group. This would also include those who would want to take a Red Cross basic first aid course, whether or not they were intending to join the CD unit. Anyone interested is requested to contact Carl French at Mokena 5076.

The final point of business was the establishment of a dance committee consisting of: Ed Hovi, Jim Lillie, Fran Cronos, and Al Behnke.

The committee has set the date for the dance for Feb. 23. It is to start at 8 p.m., and is to be held at the VFW hall in

The dance will be the first annual Arbury Hills juke dance. There will be dancing to records and refreshments served. The price is $1 per couple to be paid at the door the night of the dance.

This will be the last entertainment planned before the coming of Lent.

Tonight (Thursday) is the night of the open house at the school planned by the Summit Hill PTG. The open house will give everyone in the school district, whether or not they have children attending the school, an opportunity to see first hand what the children are receiving in the educational system in our school district. This will be a general open house, not individual conferences between the teachers and the parents.

All guests for the evening are requested to sign the guest book, and those who have children attending the Summit Hill School are also asked to indicate the grades represented by their children to enable the officers to award the attendance plaque for the evening. Refreshments will be served by the fourth grade mothers in the lobby. Everyone is requested to remain in the lobby with their refreshments in order to keep the school rooms in good order.

The superintendent of the school, H. James Wrath, will be present and will be happy to meet and talk to those who attend the open house.

There will be no regular business transacted tonight, so that the open house will run more smoothly. The hours for open house are from 8 to 9:30 o'clock.

Progress on the school's addition is being made. The concrete is being poured, since there were a few days of above freezing temperatures. If all goes as anticipated the addition will be ready for occupancy in September.

DAR Joins Book Club In Sponsoring Essay Contest

In recognition of the fact that February has been declared American History Month by Governor Kerner, the DAR is encouraging a better understanding of this subject thru its essay theme. The Book Club, recognizing this importance, has dropped its usual essay subject to utilize this theme.

Judging of the contest will be done by the Book Club members. Mrs. Leo Marcoux, a member of both the Book Club and DAR, is directing the contest for the latter organization. All entries will be eligible for both the

Another new development cuts cost of pipelining natural gas

The two outdoor compressors (foreground) can produce as much horsepower as the ten compressors housed in the building in the background.

Pipeline compressors traditionally have been housed in buildings. But two years ago, Texas Eastern departed from tradition—and installed its first compressor unit out in the open. The new concept proved a good one. As additional horsepower has been needed, more outdoor units—electric motor and gas turbine driven—have been added along Texas Eastern's 7,000-mile natural gas system. The installation savings have already amounted to almost a million dollars. Future savings can run even higher.

Texas Eastern, as the leading pipeliner of energy, also takes the lead in searching for and finding new ways to cut pipelining costs—and in setting the pace for economical and efficient pipelining. This benefits every user of natural gas in the areas served by Texas Eastern, whether in home or in industry. Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, Houston, Texas.

Fiber Content Tip-off On Quality Of Sweaters

One good clue to sweater quality is the fiber content, explains Esther Siemen, University of Illinois extension textiles and clothing specialist.

Here are some of the features you can anticipate in the various fibers:

Wool offers durability, resilience and warmth. It needs careful handling and cleaning because of its attractiveness to moths and its tendency to mat.

Cashmere is a luxurious fiber that produces a soft, almost silky feel. While not so durable as wool, it presents the same care problems. It may be blended with wool or nylon to add strength as well as to reduce the cost of the garment.

Watch for variations in the grade of the cashmere. Usually the softer and silkier the fabric, the higher the quality. Mohair, from Angora kids, has a fine, delicate appearance and an interesting texture in sweaters. The fiber is often blended with wool to make softer yarns and to reduce cost.

Another fiber that can be blended with wool or other fibers is rabbit hair, which adds a rich texture to the blend.

Of the man-made fibers, rayon, nylon and the acrylics are most commonly used in sweaters.

Rayon is usually made into novelty sweaters with a nubby texture. These garments may need reblocking occasionally because they tend to lose shape in laundering.

Nylon may be found in the textured continuous filament or spun form. Sweaters made from the continuous filament form are less likely to pull than those with the spun form. On the other hand, spun nylon sweaters have a softer texture than the continuous filament type.

Orlon and other acrylic fibers have a softer, warmer feel than nylon and are more resistant to wrinkling than nylon. Orlon sayelle is less likely to pull or become fuzzy after washing than other orlon.

In sweaters made from a blend of fibers, the chief properties come from the fiber that is present in the largest percentage. Less than ten percent of a fiber in a blend gives only pattern and color effects.

Miss Siemen says that you can easily tell the fiber content by checking the sweater label. But, since fiber content is only part of the picture in determining sweater quality, she suggests that you also consider such features as sweater- and construction workmanship.

Joliet Diocese To Build $2-Million Minor Seminary

The Joliet Roman Catholic diocese is to have a minor seminary which, its advocates point out will lend encouragement to young men to seek a vocation for the priesthood.

The school is to be built on land owned by the diocese adjacent to the Lewis college campus, Route 66-A Lockport township. It is estimated the program will cost $2-million and a campaign to raise the money is to be launched in March.

It is the hope of Bishop Martin D. McNamara, who announced the plan several days ago, that the building will be ready for occupancy by September, 1965.

The school will accommodate 300 students, 200 of them of high school status, and 100 of junior high school status. The school will be a boarding school, and they have since heard that he is recovering nicely. The Voltarels are also Homer residents.

In spite of slippery roads, a small group of King's Daughters held a pleasant meeting at Homer Church Thursday.

On Sunday, Feb. 17, Rev. Cox's sermon topic will be, "The Inconvenience of the Gospel."

Debby Burcham celebrated her birthday on Feb. 6, as did Mrs. Ray Carlson. Other birthdays this week were Mrs. Reed Burch's on Feb. 7 and Greg Carlson's on the fifth.

college. Quigley of Chicago is a minor seminary.

A spokesman for the project pointed out that the Roman Catholic population in the diocese has grown from 90,000 when the diocese was established in 1949, to a present figure of 240,000. It is expected the number will continue to increase so more priests will be needed.

When the diocese was formed there were 85 diocesan priests serving in the seven counties; now there are 154. These numbers do not include the "order priests," those who belong to the various monastic orders.

The Christian Brothers operate Lewis college. The minor seminary planned will be operated by the diocese, it was stated.

John M. Joyce, of the Seven-Lay company, of Joliet, will be lay chairman of the fund campaign; the clerical chairman will be Msgr. Edwin V. Hoover, rector of the Cathedral of St. Raymond Nonatus at Joliet.

The first pledge, $75,000, was made by Edward Hosselin, a retired industrialist of Joliet, as a memorial for two of his sons now deceased.

The seven counties that make up the Joliet diocese are Will, DuPage, Kendall, Grundy, Kankakee, Iroquois and Ford. There are 97 parishes.

Suburbs Safer Last Year Than 1961, Records Show

(CNS) Cook county traffic fatalities in 1962 compared with 1961 dropped 10.2 per cent, according to the annual summary just released by the Traffic Safety Commission.

There were 456 county traffic fatalities in 1962 compared with 519 the previous year. The suburbs reported 208 deaths compared with 222, while Chicago had 248 compared with 297.

Of the 208 suburban traffic deaths 114 were drivers, 49 passengers, and 45 pedestrians. In 1961 the breakdown for 222 fatalities was 123 drivers, 54 passengers, and 45 pedestrians.

The 208 fatalities included 152 men and 56 women. The breakdown showed 102 male and 12 female drivers killed; 19 male and 30 female passengers; and 31 male and 14 female pedestrians.

According to age distribution, 37.5 per cent of the 208 traffic fatalities were 24 years and under. A further analysis in this group showed that 41 were under 18 years and 37 were from 18 to 24 years of age. Only 5.4 per cent were 65 years and over.

The average monthly death rate was 17, with September reaching a high of 24 and January a low of 8. June was second high with 23 deaths and February second low with 10. Saturday with 43 ranked first as the day on which fatalities occurred followed by Monday with 38. Other days totaled: Friday, 29; Sunday, 38; Thursday, 27; Wednesday, 23; and Tuesday, 20. Saturday also ranked first in the previous two years: 47 in 1961; 49 in 1960.

In the suburbs the Labor Day weekend was the deadliest with five fatalities, Christmas was next with three, Thanksgiving two, and Memorial Day one.

Of the 208 fatalities 66 occurred from 6:00 p.m. to 12:00 midnight; 56 from 12:00 noon to 6:00 p.m.; 54 from 12:00 midnight to 6:00 a.m.; and 32 from 6:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon.

Seventy-eight per cent of the fatal accidents occurred when weather conditions were clear and only 22 per cent when the weather was inclement. The breakdown was: clear, 163; cloudy, 20; rain, 19; fog, 3; snow, mist, and ice, one each; sleet, none.

Road conditions were dry for 161 fatal accidents, wet for 37, icy for six, and snow for four.

In the summary of traffic fatalities by types of accidents 51 involved two cars and 40 auto-pedestrian. Twenty deaths resulted from auto-truck collisions, 17 auto-tree, and 15 auto-post.

Others were: auto-object, 7; auto-ditch, three cars, truck-pedestrian, five each; auto-truck, auto-guard rail, four each; auto-bicycle, auto-train, three each; four cars, auto-abutments, auto-viaduct, auto overturned, auto-bridge, truck-train, school bus-pedestrian, two each; auto-building, auto-tricycle, truck-truck, truck-bicycle, moving auto,

HOMER NEWS

BY ELIZABETH ANDERSON

The Good Luck Camp of Royal Neighbors will meet on Thursday, Feb. 21, in the home of Mrs. Barney Welter on Bell Rd. Assisting Mrs. Welter as hostesses will be Mesdames Shirley Lemmon, Abbie Timm and Evelyn Welter.

The Couples' Club met Friday evening in the Ted Grimm home.

Mrs. John Hollister attended the training school for United Church Women officers at St. John's Episcopal Church last Monday afternoon.

Many Homer young people participated in the 4-H Rally at Francis Field last Friday evening. The high school-age 4-Hers met at Homer Consolidated school for their festivities. Their main diversion was Square Dancing.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 5, the Homer Fire Flies met at Homer Church for their regular meeting. A health talk by David Bier and demonstrations by Jerry Paddock, Gayla Fris, Dale Onderisin, Rich Taylor, Kathy Kennedy, Betty Hiller and Don Zolecki high lighted the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thornton recently moved from an apartment on 143rd St. to the trailer home at Robert Burch's.

George Lashey of Marion, Ohio, has been a house guest in the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. Cox, and Rev. Cox, for several weeks. He will leave this week to visit his daughter in Minneapolis.

During the past week, Mr. and Mrs. Cox have had an overnight guest their friend, David Wilson of Superior, Wis., who was attending a minister's conference in Chicago.

The Northwest Homer Fire Auxiliary will sponsor a Fish Fry at the Fire House, 143rd St. on Friday evening, March 1, from 5:30 to 7:30, for the benefit of the department. Tickets are available from any member. Reservations for carry-outs should be made by Feb. 28, by calling TE 8-5544 or TE 8-6843.

Restaurant And Bar To Be Built In Palos

(CNS) A change in zoning for property on the west side of Harlem Ave., 497 ft. south of 87th St. in Palos Township so that a restaurant and cocktail lounge may be built was approved last week by the Cook county board. The requested change is from the R-3 single family residence district to the B-4 general service district.

At public hearings held by the zoning board of appeals a representative of the village of Bridgeview objected to the proposed change because it might include use of the site as a trailer park.

The applicants, Edward Slominski and Anthony J. Shemczis gave sworn testimony that the land would be used only for a restaurant and cocktail lounge.

Other municipalities notified of the hearings on the request were Chicago Ridge, Hickory Hills, Oak Lawn, Justice, Bedford Park, and the city of Palos Hills. Bridgeview was the only municipality to object to the change, which was recommended by the Zoning Board of Appeals.
